The indicator on the modem can tell a lot about your Internet connection. It is located on the front side of the device:

The indicator has some basic options for work:

- Turquoise lighting: The device is connected to a 4G network.
- Blue lighting: The device is connected to a 3G network.
- Green lighting: The device is connected to a 2G network.
- No lighting: The device is disconnected from the router or broken.

P.S. Turquoise lighting is the most common color.
